• March 2019 Peaceful Pill eHandbook Update • The Swiss Options

This month, Exit has published a new chapter on the state of play of assisted suicide in Switzerland.

In the past two years, Exit has been intimately involved in the deaths of two important people, 104 year-old Professor David Goodall. And 54 year-old Melbourne Fireman, Troy Thornton.

In reviewing the experiences of David and Troy, the new PPeH Update examines how, in the only country in the world with a de-medicalised assisted suicide law, the services catering to foreigners have adopted the medical model? The update examines the problems that have followed from this approach.

The update also flags Exit's own plans for a non-medical Switzerland-based, assisted suicide service - an approach more in keeping with the spirit of the Swiss law - once the Sarco has finished production in mid 2019.
